

Director Training and Industry Update Workshop

DD&F wants to help your bank board work more effectively and help them understand their role as a bank director in this rapidly changing financial environment. Our accredited two-hour workshop includes:

- An Overview of the Current Banking Environment
- Key Functions Requiring Board Attention
- Legal Responsibilities of Directors
- Practical Tips for Directors
- Assurance Services for Bank Boards
- Regulatory Hot Spots
- Important Financial Metrics to Monitor
- How Does your Bank Compare to Peers?
- A Look into the Future of Banking

“Ted’s director training was exactly what our board needed. We are pleased with DD&F every time we use them.” —Scott Hultberg,
President,
Bodcaw Bank

Things we’ve observed about boards...does this describe yours? If your answer is “YES” to just one of the questions below, DD&F’s Directors Training and Industry Update workshop will help!

1. Is your board unsure of what regulators expect from them? Bank regulators assume and expect board members to know much more about banking and their bank than most directors actually know. We work with hundreds of banks across the nation and know what regulators expect. We would like to pass that knowledge on to you.
2. Does your board tend to micro-manage some areas while neglecting important responsibilities in other areas? You’re not alone. We can help redirect your board to function as a real board should.
3. Does your board spend more time on the past and not enough time on planning for the future? Strategic planning is important and required by regulators, but many bank boards do not do it effectively, nor do they use their plans as a living document.
4. Do your directors fail to focus on building shareholder value? We find that many directors do not know what options are available to maximize value based upon the bank’s situation.

About Ted: Ted Gammill, a principal with DD&F Consulting has conducted strategic planning and director training for community banks across the nation. Ted is a former CPA and investment banker, working in the area of bank mergers & bank acquisitions, as well as strategic planning. He is the former CEO of one of the most profitable banking ventures in the nation that he started with Holiday Inn founder, Kemmons Wilson. Ted’s knowledge of banking from the inside out helps him connect with bank boards and talk in a language that they understand.
